Back to the case

Decision-making graph

A common path – with our own research paths

Lukas: Alternative Research TEI
Nora: separate figure annotation
Takeover only after technical examination

Co-plan from the start: responsibilities, access to research and post-editing.

Convergent paths lead to common testing obligations; research stocks remain independent.

▼ Read graphic as text

Decision graph · Die andere Stadt

1. A common path – with our own research paths
2. Joint implementation of Git
3. Pilot · Manual · agreed approaches

4. Which export fits?
5. PAGE XML + Transformation
6. Recommended test output point
7. Direct TEI export
8. Compare at the pilot stock
9. Decrease in imports
10. After that TEI/Git decisively
11. Modeling and testing together
12. schema · Image anchor · Front end
13. Independent research
14. Basic release + own responsibility
15. Lukas: Alternative Research TEI
16. Nora: separate figure annotation
17. Takeover only after technical examination
18. Released partial or total level
19. Designate data scope and components
20. Publisher and book
21. Return Corrections
22. Edition Frontend
23. Library / publishing offer
24. Designated editions and archives
25. TEI · Book reference · Frontend · Image resources
26. Co-plan from the start: responsibilities, access to research and post-editing.
27. Convergent paths lead to common testing obligations; research stocks remain independent.

The starting point is the accompanied teamworkflow. Export routes run together during import testing. Own research stocks remain referenced; acquisitions need editorial check.

▼ Decision paths and data flows as text

Digitalisate and Transkribus lead via a documented export and verified import to the relevant TEI in the Editionsrepo. Alternative export routes converge during import acceptance. Independent research retains the reference to the basic status. Released data feed publishing house and technical frontend; typesetting corrections return checked. For archiving, image operation and further work own responsibilities are agreed.